Three Types of FHA Loans Help Farmers And Stockmen

Three types of loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are particularly adapted to helping farmers and stockmen meet their credit needs for feed, seed, livestock equipment and other operating necessities, L. J. Cappleman, State Director of the Agency said. In his Dallas office Cappleman, pointed out highlights of the 1954 lending program of FHA. Total lendings up to this time have mounted to $31 million dollars, he said, and county offices in many parts of the State are overrun with applications. Mr. Cappleman listed the regular farm operating loan program, the special livestock loans, and, in designated disaster areas, the disaster loan program.

Through the operating loan program, eligible farmers may borrow to acquire farming equipment, buy feed, and pay production expenses. Loans are made through local county Farmers Home Administration offices to farmers and stockmen whose proposed operations are on a sound basis. The funds supplement but do not compete with other local credit. Operating loans made for all purposes this year, between July 1 and January 15, in Texas, amounted to $11,415,000. Cappleman added that no more funds are available on this type of loan.

Disaster loans are also made in areas disignated by Agriculture Secretary Benson as a disaster loan area, where severe weather or other conditions have caused substantial production losses or where unfavorable local economic and credit conditions have made emergency credit necessary for continued operations. More than 5,500 disaster loans totalling $11,000,000.00 had been obtained by farmers between July 1 and January 15, this year.

Other types of loans handled by Farmers Home Administration provide credit for buying and improving efficient farms and farm buildings.

Mr. Cappleman pointed out that the loan demand this year is greater than in the history of the Farmers Home Administration and heavier in Texas than in any other State.

Roy M. Wright, County Supervisor of Milam and Burleson Counties, further reported that during the year 1953, the local FHA office made loans of all types in the amount of $130,085. and total collections for the year were $138,969.38. Wright also said that the local office has fewer delinquencies now than at any time since 1946.

Shaw, secretary of the Hoblitzelle Agricultural Awards, reports that the specific award to be presented this year is given every third year to the Texan who has made the most important contribution to Texas rural life as a practicing farmer or rancher. Shaw said that anyone who wishes may nominate a farmer or rancher for the Award. The nominee may live either within or outside the region in which he is nominated. These nominations are to be forwarded not later than March 15, 1954 to the chairman of the regional committee, together with a full description of the achiveements of the candidate.

Canada Wants To Join The National Small Fry Milk Bowl

Canada now wants to be in the Milk Bowl!

With both press and radio of Canada carrying, over the past several weeks, the story of the Bowl, letters have been pouring in from the various parts of that country nominating teams for consideration for the 1954 event at Houston according to Eugene C. Weafer, executive secretary, of Bryan.

Canada is now the third international possibility. Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, has indicated willingness to select a German representative. Also, General Loris Norstad, Chief, Allied Supreme Command, and General Tunner, Chief, U. S. Air Forces, Europe, would send a team of service men's sons.

Live telecast will be added to the game coverage in 1954. The Bowl already has 550 radio stations and overseas outlets, plus national TV (film), magazine, press, and movie coverage.

With plans for the 1954 game to be completed within thirty days, Governor Allan Shivers said, this week: "It is my firm belief that character building activities like The Milk Bowl, which emphasize wholesome interest in sports and fair play among youngsters, deserve the wholehearted support of all of us."

MRS. CHARLES EUGENE GREEN

Captain Eugene Green Takes Miss Betty Jarrell As Bride In Impressive Ceremony At Columbus, Ga.

Miss Bettie Jeanne Jarrell, daughter of Mrs. Lloyd Ickey Marshall became the bride of Captain Charles Eugene Green, son of Mrs. Mary Young Green of Cameron, at an impressive ceremony Saturday afternoon, January sixteen, at 4:30 o'clock in the First Baptist Church at Columbus, Ga. Dr. John L. Waldrop performed the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with stately woodwardia trees and garlands of huckleberry forming a background for the ceremony. White candles were arranged in cluster of greenery placed on the choir rail and around the rostrum ledge. Fifteen branched spiral candelabra held burning white tapers and an arrangement of blush pink snapdragons, gladioli and tulips were used in the center of the rostrum. The family pews were marked with clusters of blush pink snapdragons and tulips, tied with blush satin cording.

Preceding the ceremony, a selection of nuptial music was presented by Miss Frances Arnold. The bride chose for her wedding, "Ave Maria", "Romance" by Friml, "Clair de Lune" by de Bussey and "Calm Is The Night" by Bohn. The soloist, Mrs. Clifford Turner, sang renditions of "Dedication" by Schumann, "Through the Years" by Youmans and Malottee's "The Lord's Prayer."

Lt. Phillip Teague was the groom's best man while usher-groomsmen were Major William D. Brodbeck, Major John R. Boatwright, Captain Robert Carrell, Lt. Robert Cox and Lt. James Schaeffer.

Mrs. Jack Randall was the bride's matron of honor. Bridesmaids who attended her were Mrs. Robert M. Lewis, Jr., Mrs. James P. Dial, Mrs. Robert S. Alford, Mrs. John D. Anderson, a cousin of the bride from Marietta, Ga.

The attendants were gowned alike in dresses fashioned from American beauty velvet. The dresses featured very full skirts with nylon-pleated panels and bustle effects on one side. The bodices were sleeveless and were completed with fitted bolero of velvet. The bridesmaids carried cascading bouquets of pale pink snapdragons and tulips tied with pale pink velvet cording which fell to the hemlines. In their hair they wore bands of pale pink velvet and a single tulip at the side.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Marshall, was attired in an exquisite gown of candlelight satin and chantilly lace. The bodice was made of satin and featured a low scalloped neckline, embroidered in seed pearls and irridescent sequins. The lace sleeves also embroidered in sequins, ended in a point over the hands. The full satin skirt featured a wide center panel of lace in front. Lace was also used in the cathedral train. Her veil of French illusion and lace appliqued medallions fell from a coronet of lace embroidered in seed pearls and irridescent sequins. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the groom.

She carried a cascading bouquet featuring a gold-throated white orchid, surrounded by lilies of the valley and stephanotis tied with white velvet ribbon.

The bride's mother selected for her daughter's wedding a champagne pink satin gown, embroidered in iridescent sequins. She wore matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. The mother of the groom was gowned in a blue lace dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was a pink orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, the mother of the bride entertained with a reception at the Woman's Club. The bridal table was laid in a white satin cloth and overlaid with an heirloom lace cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake, placed at one end of the table, was embossed in white roses and valley lilies. At the other end of the table were silver and crystal candelabra and an epergne filled with pale pink snapdragons and tulips. A garland of white blossoms surrounded the cake and garlands entwined through the branches of candelabra. Spring flowers were arranged throughout the rooms.

Miss Barbara Parks, Mrs. Howard Barr and Mrs. Robert Plant assisted with the serving. Mrs. George King kept the bride's book.

During the evening the couple left for a wedding trip to Sarasota, Florida. The bride chose for traveling a dusty rose wool suit with navy shoes and bag. She wore a hat to match the suit. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Yoes Defeated By Eagles 65-36 In 23-AA Clash

The Georgetown Eagles roared to a 65-36 victory over the Cameron Yoemen here Tuesday night in a District 23-AA Basketball tilt, and also kept their team in the running for the championship.

The Eagles pushed to a 18-11 lead at the first quarter and held their lead all during the game, not threatened once by the Yoes. Several young Yoemen saw action and showed marked improvement.

The half saw the Eagles out ahead, 28-19, and a third quarter shooting spree by the Eagles proved to be too much. Georgetown's 18 points to Cameron's 9 during the third quarter iced the game for the visitors.

Fred Petmecky took the Yoemen scoring honors by hitting the basketball for 17 points. Joe Michalka and Benny Massengale were also outstanding performers for the Yoemen.

Taking game honors was Joe Moehring with 20 points. Moehring hit nine field goals, but slipped on the free throws as he completed only 2 out of 9.

The Eagles' Sharpe and Chance both had 14 points to take third high honors.

The B-team clash also saw the Eagles take the victory, winning, 39-23. Georgetown took a quick 8 point lead during the first quarter and at the beginning of the fourth quarter, still carried an 8 point lead, 28-20.

Seeing action for the Yoelets were Collins, Massengale, C. Heitman, L. Beale, A. Witt, C. Angell, Williams, Lynch, Baggerly, Howard and Polzer.

The Yoemen will be enjoying an open date Friday night, but the Freshmen Basketball Tournament will be held in the local gymnasium.

Nineteen Cameron boxers have entered the District Golden Gloves tournament at Temple, which got underway at 7:30 Wednesday. The tournament will run for three days, with finals scheduled for Friday night.

Boys entering from Yoe High School are Doyle Armstrong, Virgil Walston with Thomas Raymond entering the feather weight class. Alvin Baggerly is entered in the light weight class.

Welterweight entries are Buddy Thompson and Freddy Fliescher.

The bulk of the Cameron boxers are in the middle weight class. Entered in this section are Arnold Warren, Billy Caldwell, Henry Brown, Billy Thompson, Billy Newton, Laddie Dolnaik, and Clayton Canizales.

Moore Recommends Corn And Grain Sorghum For County

J. D. Moore, County Agent

Texas 30 or Texas 28 corn hybrids are recommended for Milam County. Texas 28 appears to be slightly better than Texas 30 under drouthy conditions, however, Texas 30 has a little more resistance to root lodging than Texas 28.

The mixing of the two hybrids for planting is not recommended, as the difference in seed size may make planting more difficult. In addition, the two hybrids shed pollen at practically the same time to there appears to be no advantage.

In some areas farmers like to mix Texas 26 seed with Texas 30 for better pollination since these hybrids do differ by about two days in time of pollination. Texas 26, however, lodges much worse than Texas 30 or 28. There appears to be little or no advantage in favor of mixing the seed in any case.

Redbine 60 grain sorgum is recommended for Milam. Redbine 66 will exceed 60 in yield where fertility an dsoil moisture are not likely to be limiting factors. Where irrigation is used, therefore, we recommend Redbine 66. Redbine 60 has yielded better than the 66 in tests conducted by the Temple Agriculture Experiment Station.

Cameron Farmers Are Getting Land Ready To Build Terraces

Farmers in the Cameron community who plan to build terraces this fall are now busy with waterway establishment.

Alex Groppell of Route 1, is getting ready to seed King Ranch bluestem. Groppell has bedded the land, just as if he were going to plant cotton. In March he will plant about five pounds of seed per acre. He will plant it in eighteen inch rows with a regular cotton planter. When the grass reaches four to six inches high, he will sidedress it with 200 pounds of complete fertilizer.

Joe Rozner has just finished sodding Bermuda grass in a waterway on W. J. Mareth's farm. The land was bedded last fall and then replowed just before sodding. Rozner dropped Bermuda roots about fifteen inches apart in the furrow and covered them immediately. The whole operation of opening the furrows, cropping roots, and covering was done before the soil had an opportunity to dry out. Rozner was careful not to cover the roots too deep. When the grass begins to grow this spring, Rozner is going to top dress it with a complete fertilizer.

L. A. Dusek plans to use both Bermuda grass and King Ranch bluestem grass in a water way on his farm. The waterway is to be about 100 feet wide and 1,000 feet long. Since Bermuda can be a pest in a cultivated field, Dusek plans to use a buffer strip of King Ranch bluestem on each side of the waterway. The buffer strip will not allow the Bermuda to spread to the adjoining field.

Farmers who intend to build terraces this fall should be sure that they have proper waterways on which to empty the terraces. If proper waterways are not there now, the farmer should begin to develop a grass strip now. Help in locating waterways is available to the farmer through the Central Texas Soil Conservation District.

MY APPRECIATION

Since it is impossible to see and thank everyone personally, I take this means of conveying my sincere appreciation for all the wonderful things that has been done for me since I was injured in Cuba.

During my stay at St. Edward Hospitol I received the best care and attention, and I want to thank the doctors and the entire staff of nurses or an employee at the hospital for all their kindnesses and attention. To those who visited me, sent cards, flowers and gifts, I sincerely appreciate them all. Especially do I appreciate all the prayers that were said for me during my illness.

I am at my home now, where I will be confined to my bed for several months, and I invite my friends to visit me when possible.

The 15 per cent decline reflected a discouraging and sometimes disasrous year for many of the state's farmers, research associate Alfred G. Dale said in a story written for the bureau's Texas Business Review.

Wheat farmers suffered the largest setback percentagewise, their income dropping 36 per cent below that of 1952. Next largest decline was in cottonseed down 434 per cent.

Farm income from cattle slipped to 32 per cent below 1952's level and corn was down 30 per cent. Other products showing losses were cotton down 15 per cent; calves, 19; wool, 21; milk and milk products, 13.

The crop showing the largest farm cash income gain from 1952 to 1953 was peanuts, 70-72 per cent. Oats gained 47 per cent; flaxseed, 24; rice 21; and grain sorghum, 9.

Texas Chiropractic Foundation Given Mineral Interest

AUSTIN — An undivided 1-32 working mineral interest in potentially valuable oil acreage in Brown County has been given to the recently - formed Texas Chiropractic Foundation, Dr. J. C. Shipman of Abilene, Foundation chairman, announced this week.

Dr. Shipman said the donors were two Dallas brothers, Drs. C. B. and E. B. Hearn, who operate a Chiropractic clinic in Oak Cliff.

The Chiropractic Foundation was established several months ago and chartered by the Secretary of State's office in Austin. It is a non-profit corporation and has as its main objective the establishment of better Chiropractic health facilities in Texas, especially in the rural areas and especially for deserving and needy persons with inadequate financial means.

The Foundation also plans to establish scholarships, to give financial assistance for Chiropractic research projects and to underwrite programs that will lead to a better understanding by the public of what Chiropractic can do.

The contribution by the Hearns was the first received by the Foundation. The only stipulation given by the Hearns was that any revenue derived from oil or gas production or sale of the property (amounting to around 30 acres) be used to acquaint a greater number of Texans with Chiropractic. The acreage involved is near a producing area in Brown County, the Hearns have told the Foundation directors.

"I start where the last man left off"
—Thomas A. Edison

Edison, to explain his incessant and tireless reading of scientific journals, technical papers, patents and books, said that he read to avoid useless repetition of old experiments. "I start where the last man left off."

What Edison knew, and perhaps said in an unquoted moment, is that thousands of men would be needed to "start where he left off."

"Just wait a little while," prophesied Edison, "and we'll make electric light so cheap that only the wealthy can afford to burn candles." Edison lived to see lamps that gave four times as much light and cost one-fifth as much to buy. And electric lighting has progressed far beyond that.

He recognized that an invention does not end a search. It begins a search.

The lamp was a beginning in forcing not only its own evolution but the evolution of meters, fuses, sockets, wiring, power distribution systems, transformers and generating stations.

He lived to see the company that was formed to carry on development of electric light and power evolve into one of the world's most important industrial research centers. Today General Electric laboratories employ several thousand men and women who are seeking new things on widely different fronts.

It is seventy-five years since Edison lit the first successful carbon lamp. He will be remembered for inventions that changed the world. But let him be remembered, too, for inspiring so many men to start where he left off.

National Guard Lists New Member

Lloyd Albertson

Another enlistment was made in Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion this week, the local Guard unit reported today. It listed the newest Guardsman as Ladis J. Dohnalik, a local high school student.

This was the tenth enlistment to be made in Battery C so far this month. However, three more applications were received during the weekly Armory drill period and enlistment papers are being prepared at this time.

Reporting on other developments, the unit announced that orders were received recently for attendance at National Guard summer camp this year. Battery C is scheduled to go to Ft. Bliss, near El Paso, Texas, for the two weeks of summer field training from August 1st through the 15th., along with other units of the 649th AAA Battalion from Taylor, Belton and Temple.

It is not known as yet whether the Guardsmen will occupy the swanky air-conditioned barracks in which they were quartered there at Fort Bliss last year. However, it is a definite possibility that they will make the trip as before from Temple by special train. And, as was the case during last year's encampment, the Guardsmen will have a chance to practice firing their weapons on the anti-aircraft artillery ranges - and, during their off duty hours, make trips into nearby El Paso or across the Rio Grande into Old Mexico to visit colorful Juarez.

Dear editar:

Its a long ways from my Johnson grass farm out here at Marlow to the Big Four Meeting in Paris, but I have been followin the methods used not only over there but in other international sessions lately and I'm surprised to find the diplomast have adopted my system of operating almost 100 per cent.

As I understand it, no international conference is ever held without first holding a few preliminary meetings to discuss what is gonne be discussed at the main meeting For example, they've been holding meetings in Korea for months trying to decide what would be proper to talk about in case they got together to hold a main session. And what the Big Four Conference decides is not something affectin the course of history but only something affectin the course of history but only something affectin the next meeting of the Big Four.

A lot of people criticize this system, but I don't. It's the system I've been employing in my farmin operations out here for years.

For example, some farmers wake up some mornin in the Spring jump out of bed, put on their clothes, grab a bite to eat, get on their tractors, and start plantin. I don't. I've got my farmin up on the international level and I wouldn't any more think of plantin without first reflectin for months or even years than Sec. Dulles would think of gettin on the phone and talkin direct with the President of France. Sec. Dulles and I both know you've got to slip up on these difficult dicisions, you don't just blurt out your opinion or crank up a Tractor without the necessary preliminaries.

Now I'll admit that under this system you don't get much farmin or diplomacy done, but the kind of farmin I do and the kind of diplomacy generally done, the world is about as well off without anyway.

I've been in preliminary conference with myself now for years over whether to put a ten-acre patch of my land in cultivation, and I figure I've saved several barrels of gasoline, several gallons of oil, and the seats of several pairs of trousers by approachin the problem in a diplomatic sort of way. I've got a saggin gate out here I've been speculatin about fixin since 1929, and I've been in preliminary conference over a two-wire fence between me and my neighbor since 1933. You don't get many gates hung or fences repaired this way, but like an international problem, the problem is sometimes better to have around than the decision on how to solve it.

In fact, diplomatic farmin is one of the nicest systems I've ever hit on for my personal comfort and well bein. Whether agricultural diplomacy has had the same results on the international level, I can't say.

Your faithfully
J. A.

WOMAN HAS ARMS REMOVED

According to reports received today, Mrs. Josephine Ciccia, 91, of this city, yesterday had both arms completely removed, at her request. When questioned she explained that the arms were so old fashioned and fragile that they were breaking regularly and therefore decided to do away with them altogether.

She said that after Herman Wentzel, meticulous owner of Herman's Home Craft Shop, removed the arms from the chair and re-upholstered the piece, it was so modern looking she wouldnt have recognized it as the same chair. Above mentioned upholstering shop reminds as follows: while our rebuilt or repaired furniture far exceeds the quality of the assembly line type, still our pieces are less - reason - we eliminate the middlemen and we eat peanut butter sandwiches for lunch.
